

DELTA NU ALPHA FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIP

The DNA Foundation once again will be awarding scholarships to worthy students, in 2011. The process of soliciting applications from students starts in March, with the e-mailing of more than 645 packages to professors and scholarship offices at Universities throughout the United States, with a reminder message sent in April.

The scholarship committee requests your assistance , if you know of any worthy students that meet the criteria below, please have them log on to www.deltanualphafoundation.org for information and application. Time is running short so please do not delay.

The DNA Foundation Scholarship Program is open to all students studying in the fields of Transportation, Logistics and Supply Chain Management. Students pursuing Associate, and Bachelor, degrees are encouraged to apply. Each applicant is judged based upon the following:

- Scholastic Achievement,
- Financial Need,
- Overall Career Goals, and
- Related interest in their field of study

Recommendations

How to Apply: Fill out the application and send to the address below. In addition, the application is available online in Acrobat PDF format, so you can view and print it now, or save it to a file and print it later. If you do not have Acrobat Reader software, you may download it for free directly from the [Adobe Acrobat website.]

Click here to download the scholarship application. If you would prefer to receive the scholarship in a MS-WORD document, send your e-mail request to:

dnafoundation@cableone.net

What to Include with the Application Form: Certified Transcripts of all college/university level work completed and two letters of recommendation. At least one of the letters must come from educators in the transportation, supply chain or logistics programs at the school. A second letter may originate from a direct supervisor involved with an internship related to the academic major or an educator in the major or minor curriculum.